

CHRISTMAS SERVICES IN BOWER CITY CHURCHES

Elaborate Musical Programs Appropriate to the Festival Are Arranged.

ONEARTH PEACE, GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN

Religious Exercises for Adults and Children Tomorrow and Monday Night—Houses of Worship Decorated with Flowers and Plants.

The Christmas festival ought to be a good time through out all Christendom, especially in our own favored land, more especially in Wisconsin, and most especially right here in Janesville. Wretched must be the man or woman so selfish or so pessimistic that they cannot feel a throbbing of joy over the birthday anniversary of Him who spoke as never man spoke, who healed the sick, who comforted the afflicted, and who spent His life in deeds of love and mercy.

The best and most enlightened of the world take pleasure in doing honor to his memory, in the endeavor to show that in a measure at least, they are striving to follow in His footsteps. However mature people may view the day, there is no question of its status in the eyes of the children. To them it is the preeminent holiday of the year, the day when joy and good will hold sway over all other emotions.

Throughout the city the churches have prepared special programmes which are given as complete as may be below:

RUSH OF WORK IN COLLIERIES

Demand for Anthracite Coal as Result of the Strike.

Philadelphia, Dec. 22.—The increased demand for coal as a result of the strike in the anthracite region has caused a rush of work in all the collieries. During the month of November the total production of hard coal was 4,944,799 tons, and the operators expect to equal this output during the present month. If this is accomplished the year's production will be 45,022,295 tons, as against last year's output of 47,665,203.

Previous to the strike it was fully expected that the output for 1900 would be at least 2,000,000 more than the previous year, but the loss of tonnage and the shutting down of the mines during the strike caused a falling off which could not be made up. Out of the eleven large coal companies, six show an increase over their allotment. There is a boom in the anthracite coal trade, and the companies are unable to fill their orders as promptly as desired. The stock on hand is very light, and some of the companies are not able to lay up any coal for the reason that as fast as it is mined it is sent to points for delivery.

GAY GATHERING OF HER GIRL FRIENDS

Mrs. S. B. Lewis of Court Street, Entertained This Afternoon in Honor of Miss Mabel Lewis.

Mrs. S. B. Lewis entertained this afternoon in her handsome home on Court street a gay gathering of girl friends of Miss Mabel Lewis in whose honor the party was given.

The guests arrived at 2:30 o'clock and occupied themselves with hearts until five when supper was served. The dining room was garnished with holly and red carnations and with the handsome cut glass, dainty china and brilliant dresses of the pretty girls made a fine and sightly picture.

The guests were all members of a club and so bound together by closer ties than at most social functions. Their names are as follows:

Misses Marcia Jackson, Bessie Wilcox, Annie Valentine, Amy Woodruff, Catherine Smith, Alice Shearer, Harriet Bostwick, Agnes Shumway and Mesdames Frank Reynolds and John McNaught. It is needless to say that joy was unconfined and mirth did sparkle free.

HUNDREDS DIE ON OCEAN.

Many Families in Mourning Over Perished Fishermen.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 22.—Advises reached here today from St. Pierre, Miquelon, telling of a most appalling condition at that place caused by the recent gales. Captain John Carroll of the schooner Niagara of Gloucester, says that when he touched there the whole town of 8,000 people were in mourning. The gales which have prevailed during the fall have wrought death and destruction among the French fleet on the fishing banks, more especially on the grand banks and Quere. A large number of vessels had been lost, and the loss of life totaled to 300. Some twenty-one wives had been made widows and forty-five children left fatherless. The loss of life and property had given a serious blow to business there. Many harrowing tales of wreck and ruin were told.

A FOUR-HANDED BATTLE.

Two Men Are Slain and a Third Is Wounded.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 22.—At Sopchoppy, a small town in Wakulla county, last night there was a four-handed pistol fight, between State Senator W. C. Rouse, Edgar Nims, W. E. Edwards, and Frank Walker, all prominent citizens. When the smoke of the battle cleared Nims was dead, Senator Rouse fatally wounded, and Edwards had two flesh wounds in his arm and shoulder. Walker was injured in a fight that preceded the shooting, but not seriously. Senator Rouse died today. The trouble, it is alleged, was over a business dispute between Walker and Nims. Senator Rouse, it is alleged, was drawn into the difficulty as legal representative for Nims. Edwards represented Walker. It is charged that all the actual shooting was done by Walker.

YANKEE BEER PAYS BRITONS.

More Than $1,000,000 Put in English Pockets This Year.

London, Dec. 22.—American beer has put more than $1,000,000 in England's pocket this year. The tabulated returns of eleven principal American breweries owned by British shareholders, published today, show total net profits of $223,000 ($1,085,220) compared with $172,000 ($836,933) in 1899. Dividends on ordinary capital were earned by only three companies in the list, including the Chicago Breweries, Limited, which earned 3 per cent, the Denver United Breweries, 2 1/2 per cent, the New York Breweries, Limited, 3 per cent. The St. Louis Breweries, Limited, with $59,000 ($287,118), heads the profit column. The City of Chicago Brewing and Malting company is pilloried as having operated at a loss.

CLUES FOUND IN THE CUDAHY CASE

HOUSE IN WHICH THE BOY WAS HELD IS LOCATED.

Three Men Are Suspected of the Crime—Mrs. Schneiderwind Describes a Light Man to Whom She Rented the Vacant House—He Was Accompanied by a Woman.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 22.—The most important development of the day in the Cudahy abduction case was the discovery of the house in which the boy was imprisoned. It is situated at 3604 Grover street, upon an isolated spot four and a half miles southwest of the city. E. A. Cudahy and his boy were with the officers, and the lad identified the premises. Young Eddie Cudahy pointed out the exact spot in the north room where he lay from the time he was taken to the house on Tuesday evening until removed on Wednesday night. He also said he had drank from the oaken bucket which stood in one of the adjoining rooms. He also indicated the broken stairstep which he has previously referred to as where he slipped in going upstairs to his imprisonment. On the second floor was found a new well bucket containing water from which the millionaire's son had quenched his thirst. About the rooms were found hundreds of cigarette stubs and burnt matches, and a small quantity of sugar and coffee. Eddie Cudahy said he had reclined on the floor from the time he entered the house until removed. He said he was only about an hour, perhaps, going from the point where he was abducted to the house, and about the same time in returning to Thirty-sixth and Marcey streets, the place where he was released and told to go home. A number of witnesses living in the vicinity of the vacant house have given full and corroborative descriptions of two of the three men seen about the place several days prior to and the day after the kidnaping. B. K. Munshaw, an employee of the Cudahy Packing company, living in the next block from the house, saw two of the men a number of times. One of them called at his house to inquire about the vacant building, and Munshaw directed him to the owner, of whom the house was subsequently rented for a month.

Worked in Cudahy Plant.

"I am sure I have seen both of these men a number of times before," said Mr. Munshaw. "I am positive that both worked at the Cudahy plant some time ago. Further than that, I believe I can lay my hands on one of them in a short time." The residents in the vicinity all declared they had noticed two rigs hitched before the vacant house most of the day on Wednesday, and several times saw a bay horse hitched to a post in front of the house. One man in going by on his way home from work noticed a man peering out of one of the upper windows. When he saw himself perceived he sprang back from the window with a suspicious show of trepidation. Mrs. Schneiderwind last night described the man to whom she rented the house. The description tallies in every detail with that generally given of the light man. He was accompanied by a woman, she says, and said the landlord need not bother to fix up the house, as he would do that himself. William Wallace, cashier of the Omaha National bank today said that so far as the statement related to obtaining the $25,000 in gold at the bank, it was true, with one little correction—to wit: that the money was taken from the bank about 5 o'clock. Cashier Wallace was asked whether or not a man of ordinary size could carry $25,000 in gold coin. He replied: "O, yes, that can be easily done. It didn't weigh over eighty-five pounds."

MOLINEUX MUST WAIT.

Will Not Know the Result of His Appeal for Some Time.

New York, Dec. 22.—Not until the latter part of next month and perhaps not until the middle of February will Roland B. Molineux know his fate—whether his conviction on the charge of murder will be sustained by the Court of Appeals or set aside and a new trial ordered.

Lawyers Weeks and Battle, counsel for Molineux, and the prosecuting attorney, James W. Oshorn, have finished the preparation of their respective cases. Their printed and bound briefs will be sent to the Court of Appeals. Then both sides will appear before the court and make argument.

It has already been decided that the arguments shall be made in January. The decision may be given in a month or in a few days, the matter of time resting entirely with the judges.

Miners Meet Sudden Death.

Akron, O., Dec. 22.—While a party of miners were descending the slope in the Wagner coal mine, five miles south of this city today, a wild car overtook them. Some of the men jumped to the side of the track, but five were struck by the car, two being killed and the others badly injured. The dead are: Fred Minor, aged 15; Harry Minor, aged 15.

GIVES WRONGED GIRL LIBERTY

Marion Rogan Probationed by Judge Bond at Boston.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 22.—The most remarkable criminal case tried in a Massachusetts Superior court in many years and which aroused intense interest in the fashionable Back Bay district was ended when Judge Bond probationed Marion Rogan, who had blinded for life Dr. Frank L. Taylor, a dentist, by throwing vitriol in his face out of revenge. The girl had earlier appeared before the judge and told her pitiful story. She said that Taylor, after he had wrecked her life, had told her that he was irresistible among women by reason of his good looks. The white-haired judge said that he regretted Miss Rogan did not leave the punishment of Taylor to a higher power than herself. As to the possibility that similar acts of personal vengeance would follow the probationing of this prisoner, the judge said that such acts were so rare—none other having come before him in the forty years of his service on the bench—that he would take the risk and order the release of the prisoner on probation.

FRIENDS SURPRISE WM. BAUMGARTNER

Twelfth Wedding Anniversary of the Couple Was Celebrated at His Residence Last Evening.

Last evening a number of the friends of Mr. William Baumgartner tendered him a surprise party in recognition of the fact that he and his wife were twelve years married. Mrs. Baumgartner was in the plot assisted by Mrs. R. Kennedy.

Mr. Baumgartner is employed by the Electric Light Co. and was decoyed from his home on North Main street on the pretext that a certain light needed repairs. When he returned at 8 p. m. his house was taken possession of by his friends. The time from then on was devoted to cards, music, and other social diversions.

During the evening the host and hostess were presented with a set of chairs and a number of smaller individual gifts. As a souvenir of the occasion a flash light photo of the scene was taken by W. L. White. An abundant and appetizing supper was no inconspicuous feature of the entertainment.

Of the guests present were Messrs. and Mesdames W. P. Winn, George Shaller, R. Zerbel, W. L. White, R. Kennedy, C. Kellogg and A. Randolph; John Horton, Mrs. D. Conley, Mrs. Annie Bell of Beraboo and Mrs. E. Ring; Dot, Martin, Mina, Leonard and Harry Baumgartner; Clara and Walter Zerbel; Minnie and George Conley; Edna Kellogg, Ella Winn, Albert Shaller and Harry Kennedy.

HOLIDAY CLOSING OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Interesting Programs Rendered by the Pupils of the Jefferson and Washington Schools.

The day looked forward to with joyous anticipation came yesterday to the pupils of the Jefferson school and the term wound up in a blaze of musical and rhetorical glory. Each of six grades had a long and elaborate program of songs and recitations and the variety of the pleasant little poems relative to Christmas was certainly surprising.

In the first grade there were twenty numbers, in the second twenty-six; in the third, twenty; in the fourth, twenty-six; in the fifth, twenty-seven; and in the sixth, twenty. This means that there was opportunity for expression for every child so disposed and while such exercises are not obligatory they are of just as much practical value as instruction in reading or geography.

A number of the friends and relatives of the pupils attended and formed an audience in the different rooms that incited the young performers to do their best. All of the rooms were prettily decorated.

At the Washington school the third, fourth and fifth grades held union closing exercises in the fourth grade room where a very good program consisting of forty numbers was rendered. Of this number there were ten songs, several dialogues and the rest in very brief recitations. A number of visitors were present and all enjoyed a very entertaining afternoon. Holly and pictorial board work constituted the decorations.

Trout Crashes Its Rivals.

Lawrence, Mass., Dec. 22.—Announcement is made that the Prospect and Globe worsted mills in this city have, or will in a day or two, make an assignment. The amount of their indebtedness is said to be about $200,000. The capital stock of the Prospect mills is $150,000, and it employs 250 hands. The capital of the Globe mills is $70,000, and it employs 150 hands. The output is principally worsted yarns. The cause of the failure is said to be the competition of the American Woolen company.

DUTCH ARE ALL IN REBELLION

Reports of Widespread Revolt in the Cape Colony Country.

OUTLOOK VERY BLACK

Lord Kitchener's Supplies Are in Serious Danger of Being Cut Off.

GEN. FRENCH CHECKS BOERS

DeAar, Cape Colony, Dec. 22.—The banks here are sending their specie to the coast. The wildest rumors of rebellion prevail. Torrential rains have fallen and military operations are practically suspended.

The Revolt Is Growing.

London, Dec. 22.—Not since the early days of the Boer war has there been in England such fever heat as it is now. Troops are to be hurried to South Africa by the quickest means. They are to go from London and from the colonies. Eight hundred will start from England next week, and two cavalry regiments are to leave as soon as transportation can be provided. Detachments, as fast as they are formed, are to be sent, and further drafts of cavalry are to go immediately.

General Baden Powell and General Brabant have been ordered to go to the front from Cape Town at once, and both will start tomorrow. Martial law will be extended in many South African districts.

Activity in South Africa.

New York, Dec. 22.—A dispatch to the World from London says: The general outlook in South Africa is regarded as blacker than at any time before since the Boer war began. Persistent reports are circulating in the political clubs of a widespread rebellion in Cape Colony. This is believed to be the cause of Lord Salisbury's gloomy speech on Tuesday.

The situation is regarded with deep alarm, as it is feared that Lord Kitchener's supplies are in danger of being cut off.

Lord Kitchener is said to have sent a dispatch demanding 30,000 more mounted men as essential to the security of British positions in South Africa. No practicable scheme for providing these reinforcements has yet been framed by the war office.

Gen. French Rout the Boers.

Cape Town, Dec. 22.—Gen. Baden-Powell and Gen. Brabant, commander of the newly raised colonial division, has been ordered to the front and will start tomorrow. At Thorndale Gen. French has routed 2,500 Boers with four guns and a pom-pom. Thorndale is sixteen miles northwest of Krugersdorp. The fight took place on Dec. 19. The British had fourteen wounded, and the Boers fled in disorder, with about fifty killed. The Boers who invaded Cape Colony had in most cases pack horses in addition to those they rode. All were in the pink of condition. They commandeered all possible clothing and stores at Venterstad.

Boers Attack Zutfontein.

Johannesburg, Dec. 22.—The Boers attacked Zutfontein Dec. 18, but were beaten off.

Driven Out of Houtkral.

De Aar, Cape Colony, Dec. 22.—The yeomanry have driven the Boers out of Houtkral, the enemy retiring westward.

REVIVAL OF THE GAME OF POLO

half head Janesville is soon to see a revival of the game of polo which was so popular when the Riverside rink was running a number of years ago. This in the west and bids fair to regain its former popularity.

George M. Bates of Racine, manager of Horlick's team and a professional polo player will be in the city on December 31 to make arrangements to organize a team in this city. Mr. Bates is also secretary of the Western Polo League and is thoroughly acquainted with all of the details of organizing a successful team. Racine and Milwaukee both have fine teams and Racine has beaten every team in the West including the celebrated Muncies, who played the Janesville team several years ago.

There is no reason why Janesville should not have a first-class team. There is plenty of good material in this city to pick from.

Gave Children's Christmas Party.

Miss Mary Tippey of 105 Cornelia St. gave a party to about forty little girls this afternoon. Each little girl was given a little doll hat—no two alike, exquisitely trimmed, her own handiwork, besides a stocking filled with Christmas delicacies. The hats were arranged on a long table decorated with dolls and flowers, and would do credit to any millinery establishment, while the stockings hung in a festoon at one end of the room. To say they had a good time would be putting it mild.

Burke-East Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Mary J. Burke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Burke, of 155 Mineral Point Avenue, and Mr. S. H. East of Indianapolis, is announced to take place at Indianapolis, Ind., today. They will spend Christmas with Mr. Burke's family in this city, after which they will go direct to Detroit, for a week before returning to Indianapolis where they will make their home.

Green Bros. Tobacco Warehouse.

The new brick building of Green Bros. just beyond the St. Paul R. R. station is rushing along at a lively gait, and begins to assume the proportions of a finished building. The brick is laid up on the two ends, one side and more than half way up on the other side. This mild and bright weather is favorable to outside work, and the builders are making the most of it.

SHOPLIFTERS BUSY AMONG THE STORES

HOLIDAY SEASON PRESENTS
THEM WITH OPPORTUNITY.

Much of It Is Done by Persons Wearing Good Clothes and Enjoying a Recognized Position, with a Comfortable Income—Stories Told by Storekeepers Are Amazing.

Quite a little local interest is manifested just now in shop lifting, and the stories told by the store keepers are amazing, not only in the matter of the cleverness displayed but even more in regard to those engaging in this lucrative yet somewhat dangerous trade. It is a fact capable of practical demonstration that the same agility and enterprise applied to legitimate lines of effort would inevitably bring in a comfortable if not a handsome income.

Of course there is more or less of this nefarious traffic carried on through the whole year, but seasons like the present when goods are more lavishly displayed than at other times and where there is a congestion of business the opportunities for successful manipulation are vastly increased.

In the dry goods stores handkerchiefs, gloves, laces, purses and such small articles as can be immediately worn or used are those most commonly lifted. The remarkable feature of the business is the fact, as stated by one merchant, that much of it is done by women wearing good clothes, occupying a recognized position in society and known to enjoy at least a comfortable income. Such cases suggest degeneracy.

One merchant less than a year ago lost a handsome brush from a set worth about $3.50. He displayed the comb belonging to the set and after some months the comb went after the brush. A few experiences of this kind will sharpen one's wit and enable the storekeeper to fasten the guilt where it belongs.

The professional shop lifter, and there are several in this city, should in all cases be exposed and punished, not a matter of revenge, but to protect the public from such cancerous growths. One store makes a practice of prosecution where there is no doubt as to the guilt, and when the article represents any considerable value. The person is then politely requested to confer her disastrous patronage elsewhere, and the incident in the language of diplomacy is considered closed. That is one way.

Others have different methods, less conspicuous, but perhaps, no less effective. But however that may be let no professional flatter herself that she is unseen and unknown. Every one suspected in one place is soon suspected elsewhere and if she gets away with anything outside the legitimate channels of trade, it is because vigilance is temporarily relaxed.

The Small of the Back

That is where some people feel weak all the time.

They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they hadn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

"I am thankful to say," writes J. L. Campbell, of Sycamore, Ill., "that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me. For many years I was troubled with backache. At times I was so bad I had to be helped from the bed or chair. I am now well and strong and free from pain." What this great medicine did for him it has done for others.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Al. W. Martin's big scenic and dramatic production of Uncle Tom's cabin will be seen at the Myers Grand on Monday, December 24, matinee and night. Mr. Martin's company carries all the special scenery and effects required to give a perfect production of this old, but very popular play. The company embraces 50 people, 3 bands, 12 Siberian bloodhounds, besides numerous chariots, wagons, pony carts, traps and tally-ho coach.

Here are some of the picturesque names of characters in "The Tide of Life," to be presented at the Myers Grand Christmas. Hank Lott, Pretzel Pete, Charlie the Dude, Officer O'Flynn and "Cud" a black imp. The play is as amusing as these names indicate, with sensationalism enough in it to make you remember it for months.

Forty sable sons of the South compose Oliver Scott's Big Minstrels which will appear at the Myers Grand on Friday evening, December 28, and the entertainment given by them is one of originality and refinement. It appeals to the taste of all classes. Entirely free from all objectionable features. The person must be fastidious indeed, who could find fault with the genuine humor, the plantation singing and nimble dancing of these negroes. A great deal of the music introduced is of a high order. Surely the negro is advancing, as the natural adaptability of these people fits them for the stage as properly as if they had been on the boards since infancy.

EVERY-DAY HEROISM.

He was a man of thirty. Back in the days of his boyhood his sight had been destroyed by accident, and for more than twenty years he had been totally blind; but he possessed a brave and courageous heart, and after preparing himself for work, took up the battle of life with an ambition to be independent. He was a carpet weaver by trade and he wrought so dextrously and well that success attended his efforts and he was able to take his place in the rank of independent citizens. He accumulated a little money and bought a truck garden near a city, and took into his lonely home a widowed sister with three dependent children, when failing health compelled him to give up active work for a time, and sit in the chimney corner. As health slowly returned, and with it an ambition to work, he discovered that his sister, who had contributed so largely to the comfort of his home, was acting peculiarly, and before many days insanity developed, and it was necessary to place her in a hospital for care and treatment. The children were left on his hands for guidance and protection, and with a spirit that never recognized failure, he took up the added burden, saying, "I would rather do a little good in the world than accumulate riches." Not imaginary, but a living example of an every-day hero.

This world is full of this kind of heroes. Not many of them handicapped by blindness, but men and women who are living lives of suffering and sacrifice, so quietly and uncomplainingly that they are scarcely recognized. No monument will ever be erected to their memory. They do not belong to the limited class, whose deeds of public heroism command the love and admiration of the nation, but heroes nevertheless.

Did you ever notice one of these common, every-day heroes, with the thought in your heart that the common blessings of life are not very evenly distributed? If not, look in at the window of this little home, where a mother sits by the firelight, with her flock of little children about her, talking in subdued tones about Christmas. The husband and father who was with them a year ago, is lying in the church yard, while the mother, with heavy heart, is fighting the battle of life with quiet heroism, in an effort to keep the little family together.

She is saying to the children, "Yes, this is Christmas time, the gladdest time of all the year. I think old Santa Claus won't forget us, though his pack may be a little light this year. He never forgets good children, and he can't forget this little flock." And then she tells them fairy stories, forcing back the sad memories of the year, and cheering their hearts with sunshine and gladness.

She then tells them of the shepherds on the plains of Bethlehem, of the wonderful star in the east, of the glad song of the angels, of the Babe in the manger, and then they kneel about her knee in a goodnight prayer, and she is alone. Watch the lines of her face as she gazes into the firelight, note the tears that dim her sight, and catch the murmur of her voice as she says despairingly, "Oh, God, how can I carry the burden alone?" But she buries her sorrow for the children's sake and carries the burden without audible complaint, for she is one of God's every-day heroes.

Look into another home, deprived by death of its stay and support; the wife and mother prostrated by grief and illness, becomes an invalid. John, the oldest boy, with an active mind in thorough training for the college course to which his ambitions aspire, filled with hope and bright anticipation, planning a future in some profession that means success if he can reach it, has no thought of failure, until death in the home, changes the whole current of his life. He matures in a day under forced responsibility. The books are cast aside, plans frustrated, hopes abandoned, and under the rigid necessity of caring for the home, and filling the vacant place as best he may, he takes up the new burden, and carries it uncomplainingly. Ask him of his plans, and he will tell you that he is working out a destiny, with no definite plan, except as the voice of duty and love directs. He may never be a great scholar, but he is one of God's great heroes.

A few days ago, a flagman in Chicago stepped in front of a rapidly moving train to save the life of a woman who stood on the track, paralyzed with fright. He gave his own life for the life of a stranger. Why? Because he had a heart inspired by common every-day heroism.

A boy rushed into a burning tenement house to save the lives of two helpless children. He had no interest in them, in fact, no acquaintance with them, yet he carried them through the smoke and flame to safety. Why? Because he was a hero of the common sort.

What the world lacks today is not so much heroism, as a spirit of appreciation and recognition. We are a nation of hero worshippers, when the hero is of respectable size and popularity, but wonderfully inclined to overlook the common every-day variety. They are scattered up and down the world at every corner. Men and women with natures as heroic, and hearts as pure and strong as ever throbbed for humanity. Some of them are found in the ranks of God's worthy poor, deprived frequently through misfortune of many of life's common comforts. A word of sympathy or a kindly deed at Christmas time, may lighten a burden and cheer a life devoted to sacrifice. The spirit of the Master is in the heart of the hero. He recognizes in a rare degree the brotherhood of man. The same spirit is God's gift to the race, and this Christmas time is the annual reminder of this precious gift.

If more thoroughly appreciated His work would be infinitely better accomplished and heroism would be a more common inheritance. "He went about doing good." His children may imitate him very closely in this work and when they do the mission of life partakes of the spirit of heroism.

Lincoln, Nebraska is not only robbed of its population but an effort was made the other night to rob the state treasury. The city will not be destitute so long as Mr. Bryan stays by it and he proposes to stay. His newspaper will fill a long felt want in Nebraska and may result in driving the balance of the population over into Texas.

The Hay-Pauncefote treaty will hardly be recognized by the men who drafted the original copy. Mr. Hay evidently "bit off more than he could chew," and Mr. Pauncefote is wondering why he did it. Several other people are troubled with the same curiosity.

Mr. Jones of Arkansas, chairman of the National Bryanistic committee has had enough of it and wants to quit. That's a good symptom for democracy. Mr. Bryan will become so engrossed with running a newspaper, that he may lose his presidential ambitions and then the party will stand some show of reorganization.

The average thug won't need to go to the Klondike, when he can pick up bags of gold in the road by simply stealing millionaire's sons. The new industry is a gold mine for the average crook and no questions asked.

Atty. Gen. Griggs' masterly argument against ex-President Harrison, before the supreme court of the United States, is based upon our attitude in the acquisition of the Louisiana territory. His position is that congress alone has the power to abolish duty on goods imported from Porto Rico and the Philippines.

Iowa is complaining of the worst kind of adulterated butter, and yet she is lending valuable help to the passage of the oleomargarine bill. The butter men are playing a stiff game in forcing up the price of butter—adulterating it, then forcing butterine out of the market.

Governor Pingree's farewell banquet was a burlesque of the worst kind, and we are of the opinion that the four kinds of wine furnished by the governor, had an influence on his speech, which was vulgar to the last degree.

Pres. Harper's Christmas speech has become stereotyped in regard to the words, "I am happy to announce, etc."

SHERIFF IS AFTER THE BOGUS DOCTOR

MAN WHO DRUGGED A. M. SMITH
IS CAPTIVE IN ST. PAUL.

Mr. Appleby Left for That City Last Night with a Requisition, and Will Bring Him Back Here to Be Punished According to the Law in Such Cases.

Sheriff W. H. Appleby left last night for St. Paul armed with a requisition for G. H. Delavan, the bogus doctor who drugged and robbed A. M. Smith of Owatonna, Minn., at the Grand Hotel some time ago.

Delavan's arrest was brought about by a man that was at the Grand at the time that Smith was robbed. At that time this travelling man was complaining of being sick and Delavan offered to give him some medicine. He had two drinks mixed at the bar for the man but he became suspicious and told him to drink one of the doses himself. Delavan refused to do this and the travelling man declined to take any of his medicine. This travelling man ran onto Delavan in St. Paul and knowing of his being wanted for robbing Smith, he notified the police and he was arrested and the Janesville officers notified. Smith has been sick at his home in Owatonna ever since Delavan gave him the dose from the effects of it. He telegraphed Chief Hogan this morning that he would be in Janesville to prosecute the case as soon as his health would permit.

This is not the only place that Delavan has worked this game. Shortly after he left Janesville the papers had an account of the same scheme being worked on a travelling man in an Iowa town. The man complained of having a cold and the doctor went through exactly the same course that he followed in Janesville, gave him a drink of medicine, put him in bed and then took every thing he had and skipped out. It looks very much as if the same man worked the game in both places.

When Delavan was arrested by the St. Paul police he had in his possession three watches and considerable money. Sheriff Appleby will probably arrive with him on the early train tomorrow morning.

Delavan is a dangerous man to have at large and it will be a good thing if he is placed where he will not have a chance to dope any more men for some time to come.

Death of John Cullen.

John Cullen, thirty-one years of age and for many years a resident of this city passed away at 8:45 o'clock last evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cullen. He was taken with typhoid fever six weeks ago and passed away last evening after a long and painful struggle. He was a young man who had many friends and acquaintances who will be pained to learn of his death. He was a member of Olive Branch Lodge, No. 36, A. O. U. W., of this city. He leaves to mourn his taking away a father and mother, five brothers, Charles, Henry, Thomas, Arthur and George, and three sisters, Margaret, Julia and Elizabeth.

The funeral will be held from St. Patrick's church on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Associated Charities.

The associated charities are not solicited for any great amount of assistance just now, about one call a week being the average. Late calls have been for clothing which are supplied from the society's store room in the Jackson block.

This indicates a good state of affairs just for the present, but it must be remembered that as soon as the severe weather comes the needs will multiply and calls must be met and answered. Those having clothing which would be available would do well to leave it with the society.

A. O. U. W. Attention.

There will be a special meeting of Olive Branch Lodge No. 36, A. O. U. W., this evening at 7:30 o'clock to make arrangements to attend the funeral of our late brother, John J. Cullen. By order of George Tyler, M. W.

BUSINESS BRISK THROUGHOUT TODAY

STORES WERE CROWDED WITH SHOPPERS.

Edison Phonographs Shown by S. C. Burnham & Co.—E. H. Connell Has Central Location—Fine Display at C. D. Stevens—Suggestions by T. P. Burns.

Business throughout the city today was brisk. From all portions of the county farmers drove to town. Crowds jammed the stores this afternoon so that it was impossible to move about. Especially was this true in the case of the dry goods, jewelry, clothing and notion stores. This evening's rush of shoppers promises to be great.

Daily Amusing Thousands.

That is just what the famous Thomas A. Edison phonograph is doing in all parts of the civilized world today. The exclusive agency for Janesville for the Edison phonograph has been placed with the jewelry firm of S. C. Burnham & Co., located in the Hayes block. No Christmas present could possibly bring more joy to the home than an Edison phonograph.

Just think of the happiness to be derived. All the world famous musical numbers reproduced true to life. S. C. Burnham & Co. have placed a special order for Edison phonographs. For $10 they can be able to sell you a genuine Edison instrument that in tone is equal to many at a higher cost. The records come at 50 cents each or cheaper by the dozens. When you purchase an Edison you buy the best. When you purchase a phonograph don't be talked into buying a cheap priced instrument of an inferior make for they are the most expensive in the end.

Central Location.

Most centrally located is the E. H. Connell cigar store on the bridge. Since making the purchase of this popular place of business Mr. Connell has made many improvements. A news stand has been added. Every morning and evening, Chicago, Milwaukee papers are offered for sale. Papers may also be purchased on Sunday. For the holiday trade Mr. Connell has placed in stock an excellent line of the latest cigars at popular prices. His pipe stock and fine pipe smoking tobaccos make excellent gifts for Christmas.

Fine Table Assortment.

Table delicacies for Christmas are just as much of a necessity as the Christmas present. No grocery store in the city offers a more complete or more tempting assortment than C. D. Stevens, the North Main street grocer. During this week Mr. Stevens has sold to the local trade one hundred fine young turkeys. He has ordered more and a phone call will save you one of these turkeys for your Christmas dinner. Fine fruit of all kinds, imported Turkish figs, nuts, celery, mince meat, candies, dates, cheese and small pickles form but a small part of the Christmas table suggestions at this model grocery.

Mr. Stevens is offering the public now a line of coffees that are not excelled by the local tea and coffee stores. These coffees come at all prices the medium priced coffees being warranted to possess the flavor and strength of the coffees that many dealers sell at fancy prices.

T. P. Burns Suggestions.

We have the most extensive and attractive display of useful and appropriate goods suitable for the holiday presents this season that we have ever shown and our prices on the same are sure to make you a customer. A glance at the list below may assist you in making your Christmas purchases, on all of which we are marking specially low prices for holiday time.

A SUSPICIOUS CHARACTER ARRESTED AT EVANSVILLE.

He Had in His Possession 15 Feet of Fuse Dynamite Caps and a Half Pint Bottle of Nitro-Glycerine—Will Be Held Until He Has Been Identified.

Marshall Cal. Broughton of Evansville picked up a man about 3:30 o'clock this morning who was going through Evansville in an empty box car on a freight train, that he thinks is a dangerous character. He gave him the name as Thomas Brown and his home as St. Louis, Mo. He is about 38 years of age, five feet six and a half inches tall, weighs about 140 pounds, grey eyes, dark hair and looks like an Irishman.

When arrested he had in his possession fifteen feet of fuse, fourteen dynamite caps, a half pint bottle supposed to contain nitro-glycerine, a lot of skeleton keys, a dark lantern and a lot of two cent stamps.

Marshall Broughton feels certain that he has captured a dangerous man and one that has been mixed up in the numerous post office robberies throughout the state recently. Post office Inspector Bird of Milwaukee has been notified of the capture by telegraph and is expected in Evansville today. Pending his arrival the man will be held in the Evansville lock up on the lock out for suspicious characters and has made quite a reputation of late by picking up some very badly wanted criminals.

XMAS AT THE FARM.

THE unmistakable man made signs of Christmas were left behind when I plunged into the dreary waste of snow beyond the borders of the town for the annual pilgrimage to uncle's farm. Only the snow, hiding bush and fence, the white mantled trees and the cold gave a suggestion that somewhere beneath the chilling rural surface of things there were joyous groups preparing holiday revels. Winter was too keen, too freezing, not to have a brighter side than that which lay out of doors.

As I passed the big barn the sounds of young voices behind the huge doors told me that Cousins Frank and Jim were inside, perhaps mending harness or tools or caring for the live stock. The little door, framed in the huge ones, opened to my hand, and Jim and Frank, one holding open a grain bag and the other emptying a bushel into its mealy, gaping mouth, smiled a welcome. Without looking up, Uncle David "struck off" another heaped up measure of grain and marked it down on the score. "I thought it was about time," said he, and I then knew that my social status at the farm had not changed since the last visit.

The horses in their stalls stopped nosing the hay and pricked up their ears for a minute, the cattle held their heads lazily and stared; then the atmosphere resumed its throbbing stillness until the load of bags had been tied and set in rows. Only this and nothing more by way of ceremony in receiving a Christmas guest. Later came inquiries after "the folks" and the newest doings in town.

While uncle cast a satisfied glance at the bursting haymows, the sleek horses and cattle and the rows of bags Jim and Frank challenged me to guesses at the remaining contents of the bins. "You will all have another guess," chimed in my uncle, "and now let's go and see what's going on in the kitchen." I noticed for the first time that his linen was very fresh for a farmer at work and that the boys each had on a brand new suit from wool raised on the farm. These trifles were the only evidence of a holiday, for not a word of Christmas had been spoken. We entered the strung out, rambling line of buildings constituting the farmhouse, through a wood shed, into the washroom, then past a storeroom having a faint suggestion of holding supplies that were toothsome. Next came a summer kitchen with a positive odor of newly peeled apples, doughnuts and spiced mince meat. Uncle led the way out upon the porch to avoid the crowded main kitchen, through the open door of which came hot and heavily laden air from ample ovens and steaming kettles and pans.

Cousin Martha, the unpecked flower of a group of seven girls, rushed forward to give the first effusive greeting, and Cousin Mattie, with Cousin Marvin's wife, Jennie, followed suit in make believe girlishness. Aunt Harriet, looking generous enough to wish that all creation might sit down to the feast, whose stages of preparation were shown by stains and flour patches extending from her eyes to the hem of her apron, said in kindly reproval, "You're here, but alone, as usual."

From the porch we went into the family sitting room, and uncle seemed to cut loose from his following as he sat down beside Cousin Tilly, whose fresh widow's weeds lent a somber key to the occasion. Jim and Frank gave a hand in choking silence to their mourning sister, and I wanted to, but had to answer for the city aunt and cousins. Two fatherless little ones rushed in with six other sets of happy grandchildren, and somberness fled from the farmhouse, for the rest of that day at least.

Cousin Marion started in to check her brood, but her childless sister Katherine said: "Let the young ones go it. Time enough to be sober when they get old." Then uncle got down on the floor and turned himself into a horse playing granddaddy until the racket made the old house shake.

My cousins stole out and hurried nervously to the carriage house, on the side of the farm, opposite the big barn. There was life and bustle there, for sleighbells gave fitful melodies as they were taken off and hung up; horses stamped and were told, with sounding slaps, to "Get over!" Cousin Marvin was acting the host to the brothers-in-law from the hill farms. He lived on a section of land set off from the homestead and was uncle's right hand man.

There was a word or two of regret from the older ones for the lamented Samuel, who had been there last Christmas; then the group marched single file behind the stalwart Marvin over the narrow snow path to the house.

Floating up from the front yard came a babel of voices, and Ralph, the oldest grandson, a fat, heavy lad, shouted to us boys, "Come and see our Christmas!" As we rounded the corner of the house the same tones cried out, "Ready, aim, fire!" and a dozen balls whirled past our heads from a snow fort manned by a troop of boys and girls in mufflers and mittens. After this reception the garrison scattered and began placing great rolls upon the parapet to build it higher. A snow man as big as a giant and a rabbit the size of a Saint Bernard were patched up with a nose and an ear, and we were asked to review the sights of the frosty Christmas museum.

The call to dinner led to a real charge through every door of the mansion, and when we got a glimpse of the dining room, as the women seated the little ones, it presented a jumble of happy, red faces and heaps of cooked things in brown, white, pink and yellow.

All Christmas dinners are alike in one thing—under any and all circumstances the guests are ravenously hungry and boisterously happy, and neither old nor young can observe the rule of not talking with the mouth full; otherwise the feast would be silent, and with 35 mouths enjoying Aunt Harriet's bounteous spread that dinner was not at all quiet. Moreover, I didn't regret having turned my back upon town celebrations for a Christmas at the farm.

His attorneys are now trying to secure bail for him.

Mr. Thos. Pratt of 281 South Main St. says: "I doctored off and on for forty years, attempting to rid myself of backache, which came on by spells, very painful when at their height and even when somewhat allayed, the dull aching was sure to manifest itself, if I overtaxed myself, caught cold or did any work which brought a strain on the muscles of the back. Often I have been so lame and sore that there were days I was confined to my room almost helpless, certainly unable to get up or down. Like a great many other people in Janesville I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co.'s store, led to do so by the peculiar advertisement which riveted my attention. After taking a thorough course of the remedy I was able to go to the quarry and sling an eighteen pound hammer without showing any signs of a recurrence. If I am subjected to future attacks I know what remedy to employ."

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12. Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the feet, peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, the pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

Druggists sell Large Bottles for $1.00.

WISCONSIN FARES WELL IN CONGRESS

LARGE APPROPRIATION IN RIVERS AND HARBORS BILL.

Whole Amount Provided for Reaches $60,000,000—Senate Additions Will Carry It Above the High Water Mark—Harbors on the Great Lakes Receive Liberal Treatment.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Wisconsin has fared well in the River and Harbor bill, which was completed yesterday afternoon and the provisions for new projects and appropriations for work already in progress are as generous as have ever been provided for the internal improvements of the state.

Badger Members Pleased. The Wisconsin members express general satisfaction with the items of the bill. The measure contains provisions for a re-survey of the South Milwaukee harbor with a view to modification of the original plan, and to ascertain the cost of the project on different lines.

A survey is also ordered for Stone Haven, near Sheboygan. Another new project is a harbor of refuge on Lake Pepin, for which $14,000 is provided.

For Wisconsin Harbors. The Milwaukee Harbor of Refuge received $119,000 and the harbor proper $51,000, and for the maintenance of different harbors the following items are given:

Anhaup, $10,000; Green Bay, $10,000; Kenosha, $9,900; Kewaunee, $11,000; Port Washington, $5,000; Racine, $17,000; Sheboygan, $20,100; Sheboygan, new project, $48,000; Ashland, $40,000; Two Rivers Harbor, $20,000; Surgeon Bay canal, harbor of refuge, $11,000; Oconto, $5,000; Sturgeon Bay and Lake Michigan Ship canal, $73,500; Manitowoc, $8,000; Manitowoc breakwater, $37,000; Port Wing, $25,000.

Second Largest on Record. The total amount carried in the bill is approximately $60,000,000 of which about $23,000,000 is in direct appropriation and about $37,000,000 in the authorization of contracts for continuous work. Compared with former river and harbor bills the present one is the second largest on record, and after the senate has added amendments it is expected to be well up to, if not ahead of, all previous records. The bill of 1900 carried $39,958,185, and that of 1897, which was the largest on record, carried $72,275,954.

For a Cliff-Dwellers Park. A bill was introduced in the house by Representative Lacey of Iowa for a national cliff-dwellers' park in New Mexico for the preservation of the remarkable historic ruins.

Must Wait for Court Decision. It is not likely that the supreme court of the United States will render a decision in the Porto Rico and Philippine constitutional cases for several weeks, and possibly not until the latter part of February.

Gen. Davis in Washington. Brig-Gen. George W. Davis, who commanded the department of Porto Rico up to the time of its discontinuance a few weeks ago, has arrived in this city preparatory to his departure for Manila by way of San Francisco.

Railway Charges for Mails. Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—The commission made up of members of the senate and house of representatives in congress, known as the postal commission, to investigate charges of exorbitant mail rates by the railways, has about completed its labors, and probably will make its report to congress by January 10. It is understood that the commission is unanimous in the view that the specification of exorbitant railroad mail-carrying charges, amounting to three or four times the fair value, have not been sustained by the testimony.

BRITAIN WILL SIGN IT.

Such is the prevailing opinion concerning the amended Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

Washington, Dec. 22.—President McKinley and his cabinet advisers took up the thread of negotiations for the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty the final ratification of the Hay-Pauncefote agreement as amended and approved by a two-thirds vote of the senate. As vitalized by American doctrine by the senate, the Hay-Pauncefote treaty will be transmitted to Great Britain. The president has no intention of pigeon-holing the treaty owing to the fear that it will seriously offend British dignity and provoke a breach in diplomatic relations.

ions. Although the amended Hay-Pauncefote treaty requires of England the complete abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer convention, which that government several times has refused to concede, the prevailing sentiment in state and administration quarters reflects the conviction that England will finally sign the treaty.

Pension Building for Hall. Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—Secretary Hitchcock has granted the inaugural committee permission to hold the ball and entertainments incident to the coming inauguration of President McKinley in the pension building.

JUSTICE

Is portrayed as a woman, yet her sex might complain that they get scant benefit of her powers. There is little justice, it would seem, in the suffering that many women undergo month after month.

Justice acts upon the legal maxim that ignorance of the law cannot be pleaded in mitigation of punishment. It is ignorance which causes so much womanly suffering. Ignorance of the requirements of womanly health; ignorance on the part of those who attempt to cure and fail, and ignorance of the fact that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"When I first wrote to Doctor Pierce concerning my health," says Mrs. Mollie E. Carpenter, of Linaria, Cumberland Co., Tenn., "I was so weak I could only write a few words until I would have to rest; was so weak I could hardly walk. Words cannot express my sufferings. Dimness of sight, palpitation, shortness of breath, black spots or else shining lights before my eyes, terrible headache, numbness in my arms and hands and tongue, also my jaws would get numb; constipation, falling of the uterus, disagreeable drains, soreness through my bowels; in fact I was diseased from head to foot. Now I can do my own washing and cooking. I can take a tea quart pail in one hand and a six quart pail in the other (full of water), and carry both one-fourth of a mile and never stop to rest. I am as heavy as I was at 10 years (25 pounds). I used thirty bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and twenty-five vials of 'Pleasant Pellets'."

Nasal Catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heals the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. Druggists sell the 50c. size; Trial size by mail, 10 cents. Test it and you are sure to continue the treatment.

Announcement. To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm in liquid form, which will be known as Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Prices including the spraying tube in 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation.

Omega Oil

CORSET PAINS—A woman once said she liked to wear a corset because it was such a relief when she took it off. So long as Fashion makes women wear corsets, they will continue to squeeze their bodies into shapes never intended by Nature, and they will also continue to suffer. The pain and discomfort won't be so bad, however, if they will rub themselves every night with a little Omega Oil. This relaxes the squeezed-up flesh and muscles, takes out the soreness and has a wonderfully soothing effect. The woman who wants to get up in the morning feeling fine, ought to get some Omega Oil right away and use it.

Omega Oil is for sale in most drug stores. Any druggist can get a supply of his whole sale. If your dealer does not keep it, the Omega Chemical Co., 357 Broadway, New York, will mail you a bottle, prepaid, if you will send 50c. in cash, money order or stamps.
